

PREFERS WIFE TO A FORTUNE

Man Refuses To Give Up His Wife To Gain
Large Sum Of Money Bequeathed Him.

JEALOUS WOMAN MAKES HER WILL

Gives Fortune To Former Sweetheart, Providing He Leaves His Present Wife Forever--A Wife
Or Fortune?

Pittsburg, Pa., July 26.—Carl F. Miller, a prominent merchant of this city, loves his wife. His affections amply are returned. Therefore, the remarkable clause in the will of an old sweetheart, Miss Anna M. Gunning, by which he may inherit $500,000 appears to be superfluous.

Her attorneys, Hays & Noble, filed with the register of wills, George Stengel, one of the strangest documents ever received by that official. After bequeathing in the neighborhood of $150,000 the dead woman brings to a close the document with this startling announcement:

Bars Her Rival.
"The income of the balance is to be given to Carl F. Miller, provided he is not living with the woman he married in 1899, one June Wilson. Should she die or he be divorced from her—that is, finally divorced—he is to be given absolutely one-half of the principal and the interest on the other half as long as he lives. If he marries again he can, by will, leave all to his second wife and children.

"If he dies unmarried a second time or without children, the one-half, or all his share, is to be equally divided between the children of Wesley Breer.

"In no case is the present wife of Carl F. Miller to benefit in anything I leave him, either in personal property or real estate. Should any one contest this will it is my earnest desire that they shall forfeit their share."

Miller Can Have Everything.
Further on in the will Miss Gunning disposed of her household effects. After distributing a few favorite pictures and some of her china to women friends, she again refers to Miller, stating that he is to have everything that is left of the household effects, as well as all of her other personal property, the strict condition attaching, however, that he is not to have them unless divorced or until after the death of Mrs. Miller. She also makes it clear again that Mrs. Miller is to have nothing, nor is she to be benefited in any way by the will.

Never Forgot Love Affair.
Mr. Miller courted Miss Gunning many years ago. They became estranged and Miller married Miss Wilson. Miss Gunning is said to have been broken hearted over the loss of her sweetheart. According to her relatives and friends she was in sound mind when the will was made and continued so until the hour of her death, at which time she was 55 years old. She never evinced any peculiarities, and it was thought her love for Miller had been forgotten years before.

Remains True to Wife.
She went into society a great deal and appeared to be happy in her later years, but her friends knew the story of her life, for she frequently referred to it.

Mr. Miller was seen at his home in Wilkesburg. He refused to discuss the will. He regretted exceedingly that it had been made public.

"I am perfectly happy in my married life," said he. "I do not think there is any prospect of my getting a divorce," and he laughed good naturedly, a laugh in which Mrs. Miller joined.

CZAR'S NEW SEARCH LIGHT BIGGEST YET

Greatest Lamp in the World Will Be Used at the Port of Cronstadt.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Petersburg, July 26.—It is definitely decided that the great searchlight recently built in Germany for the government, and which will be shipped hence within a few days, will be used in the port of Cronstadt. This is considered imperative in view of the recent disturbances there. The light is the largest in the world, with 250,000,000 candle power. It uses up an electric current of 200 amperes and the reflector measures six feet in diameter, while the lamp's carbons are six inches in circumference.

WILL UNION LEAGUE LAUNCH ROOT BOOM?

Talk Heard in New York City That the New Secretary of State Will Be Endorsed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, July 26.—If there is an early boom for the presidential nomination of Elihu Root, Secretary of State, it will no doubt have its start in the Union League Club of this city, for it is heard on all sides even now that talk of this kind has been heard about the club, which has always been a power in national republican affairs. Those who are in a position to know say that Mr. Root, with all his love of country and desire to serve it, would not have re-entered the Cabinet but for the foothold in the White House. In no way could he better be helped than through the Union League is just what its name implies, a league of the powerful men of New York interested in the success of Republican policies. Holding itself aloof from controversies, as to tariff reciprocity and other matters of party policy, the Union League endorsement carries with it a power scarcely wielded by any other single organization in the country.

TAFT PARTY WILL BE EMPEROR'S GUESTS

Are to Take Luncheon With Him at the Royal Palace this Week.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

PEACE PARTY IN RUSSIA HEAVES A SIGH OF RELIEF

The Czar's Peace Envoys Now on an Ocean Trip to America, and Some Terms Will Very Likely Be Made.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Cherbourg, France, July 26.—The North German Lloyd liner Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, sailing from here today for New York, carried among her passengers the following Russian plenipotentiaries and their party, who plenipotentiaries and their party, who lives regarding peace between the two countries: M. Witte, chief plenipotentiary; Prof. de Hartens, professor of international law at the university of St. Petersburg; M. Shipoff, director of the treasury department; Major-General Yermoloff, military attaché at London; M. Samoiloff, of the Russian foreign office; M. Plancou, formerly Russian charge of affairs at Peking; M. Gorolovits, formerly secretary of the Russian Legation at Peking; M. Naboukoff, of the Foreign office. M. Witte, has a handsome suite of two luxurious cabins.

St. Petersburg, July 26.—The peace party today gave a sigh of relief when the dispatches from Cherbourg announced the actual sailing of M. Witte and his party, for until the last moment no one was sure that the Emperor acting upon the influence of some of the Grand Ducal party, would change his mind. In the peace party there is great joy at the fact that the negotiations have been placed in M. Witte's hands. Although it is known that he will not accept peace at any price, it is believed that his calculations assure the obtaining of the best terms possible for Russia. Meanwhile some of the Grand Duke's are still furious over the selection of Witte, as are also some of the courtiers of the Czar.

WAR NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR OF RUSSIA IS NOT REASSURING

Revolts Continue And There Is No Prospect of Peace Settlement.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

JUDGE SCORES UNION PICKETS

Iowa Court Holds That Their Duties Call For Much Brawn Nowadays.

JOB DEMANDS THE USE OF FORCE

Drastic Denunciation Of The Methods Of Labor Unions And The Civil Authorities Who Allow Their Actions.

Topeka, Kan., July 26.—Judge Smith McPherson of the United States circuit court for the southern district of Iowa has rendered an opinion regarding the right of strikers to establish a picket line. Santa Fe officials here received notice of the opinion. It is attracting much attention among attorneys and others who have seen it. The one portion of the opinion Judge McPherson says:

"There can be no such thing as peaceful picketing any more than there can be chaste vulgarity or peaceful mobbing or lawful lynching."

The case that brought forth Judge McPherson's words arose over the differences that the Santa Fe road had with its employees during the strike of 1904. When the machinists threatened to strike the company discharged the instigators and since that time there has been a lockout. Pickets were put out by the men, when the company sought an injunction. Judge McPherson says the right of the company to discharge men with or without cause can not be questioned and the right of the men to quit their employment either individually or as a union is equally beyond dispute.

Blames the Authorities.
Continuing, the opinion of the court says:

"There would not have been the slightest occasion for bringing this case if there had been any sincerity and honesty of purpose by the local authorities to maintain peace and order. Intimidation, force, violence and brutality were all winked at, because of the belief on the part of certain peace officers that they would be kindly remembered on future election days."

YELLOW JACK RAGES IN NEW ORLEANS—MANY DIE

Disease Assumes Proportions Of An Epidemic In The Crescent City—Much Alarm Felt.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
New Orleans, La., July 26.—The city board of health, in an official report at 10 o'clock Tuesday night says there have been 154 cases of suspected yellow fever in New Orleans, 34 deaths all told, and about 50 cases under treatment.

Two more deaths and four new cases was the day's record. The infection rapidly is assuming the proportions of an epidemic and thoroughly has alarmed the people of the city and state. The quarantine cordon has been drawn more tightly about New Orleans, and it now is impossible for the local resident to go anywhere outside of a few "excepted" districts within the state.

State Quarantines City.
After going over the situation the Louisiana state board of health decided upon a quarantine against the city of New Orleans with the exception of what is known as the open territory, which includes the Ozone pipe belt in St. Tammany parish, a portion of Tangipahoa parish, Jefferson, St. Bernard and Plaquemines parishes. All other districts of the state will be closed to passengers from New Orleans, no matter what action the local board of health may have taken. They will play hob with the railroad passenger service.

This action was done in order to relieve the Mississippi quarantine, put on by Dr. Hunter against the whole state, and to quiet the prospective action of a similar kind by Dr. Tabor of Texas.

Four Powers Grapple with Plague.
Four powers are now grappling with the problem in New Orleans—viz.: the state of Louisiana, through Gov. Blanchard and the state board of health; the city board of health, headed by Dr. Quitman Kohnke; the citizens' committee, operated by Mayor Behrman; and the committee selected by the New Orleans Parish medical society, together with bankers and business men, and United States marine hospital service, represented by Dr. Whyte and Dr. Guiteras, who are on the scene.

AGRICULTURE IN RURAL SCHOOLS

NEW LAW REQUIRES THAT IT BE TAUGHT.

A PROBLEM FOR EDUCATORS

Statute Does Not Describe Amount of Instruction, and Helps for Teachers Are Scarce.

GALLEY S. Under a new law passed by the legislature it is compulsory that the subject of agriculture be taught in every rural or district school in Wisconsin. The amount of instruction that shall be given is not described and as the subject is comparatively new one for primary and low grade scholars the educators of the state are beset with several problems. It has been taught to some extent during the past few years by some teachers, but the best methods have not been settled upon, no first class text books have as yet been written and it is a difficult proposition to equip the teachers with an adequate knowledge of agriculture and enable them to instruct their pupils in the subject intelligently and properly.

Recommendation Before. Upon the recommendation of the state superintendent of schools a few years ago, those who attended the Rock County Teachers' Institutes during the summer were advised to, in some manner, which they were allowed to select for themselves, commence the instruction of agriculture, many pedagogues, with suggestions from the institute directors and the county superintendents, introduced the new subject. Some carried on the work as an extra class each week taking up some nature study, performing some simple but interesting experiments with growing plants, talking to their pupils on some topic relative to agricultural work or requiring information on various questions from the scholars.

In Teacher's Institute. Now that this work is required in every school those who are attending the institute at the high school at present are receiving special instruction on the subject of agriculture and the various methods of transmitting their knowledge to the pupils.

Teachers Not Trained. The majority of those who go to teach in the country are high school graduates. They have had no training in agriculture and their only knowledge of plant was gleaned from the study of botany. They had no more than a year's study of and the subjects taken up were more particularly concerning flowers and foliage than grain. Their other resources of information are scarce and not easily procurable. If they were born on a farm and lived there, they may know something of the subject, but the greatest number know almost nothing. It is possible to gain some useful information from books, but agricultural writings which would be of benefit are few.

No Satisfactory Text Books. In the way of text books for teachers to use in their agriculture classes none have yet been published which are entirely fitted for graded school work. D. D. Mayne, formerly superintendent of schools here is the author of one which has received some attention, but it is more fitted for high school students than for pupils of rural institutions. Where there is not this objection to the several books which have been put out, the subject matter is at fault. When the subject is as old in the schools as physiology there will doubtless be as many excellent and standard text books available as there are physiology text books now.

Outline Being Prepared. Professor Upham of Whitewater, who is one of the directors at the institute here now, was called to Madison last Friday to meet with other educators and devise a plan for instructing agriculture which will doubtless be furnished every teacher in the state to aid them in their work. The outline and suggestions made have not been set before the public yet, but will be given to ex-Governor Board of Pt. Atkinson, Dean Byrne of the university and other prominent men with a knowledge of agriculture which is both technical and practical, for approval and suggested changes.

More at Institute. Since the publication of the enrollment at the Rock County Teachers' Institute last week a number of names have been added. They are: Samuel Adams, Lima; Kittie McBride, Milton; Jennie Dean, Clinton; Elsie Lewis, Beloit; Johanna Dawson, Evansville; Ethel Soper, Beloit; Carrie Terwilliger, Clinton; Lillian Decker, Janesville; David Thorne, Afton; Nellie Douglas, Beloit; Margaret Young, Janesville. Assistant State Superintendent Borden pronounced the institute here the largest in the state.

ROCKFORD GOLFERS COMING ON AUG. 3

Preparations Will Begin at Once for Entertainment of the Big Delegation.

On Thursday, a week from tomorrow, the Rockford Country club will come to Janesville for the annual contest at the Mississippi links. It is probable that the delegation of visitors will be the largest since the pilgrimages were inaugurated five years ago. Janesville won the first contest by the score of 60 to 0 but was beaten on the year following. In the succeeding matches honors have been about even.

Elgin Butter Market. Elgin, Ill., July 25.—No offerings or sales. Official price at 20c firm. Output, 920,100 lbs.

BUILDING NOTES

Loan Interests Gather. New York, July 25.—The national convention of the United States League of local building and loan associations opened here today, the delegates being welcomed by Mayor McClellan. During the convention a number of important papers will be read on the different phases of the movement by men from various states. Among them are "The Public Duties of Building and Loan Associations," W. R. Smith, Chicago; "The Tariff Tax on Homes," F. C. Le-bucher of New York, and others of an equally interesting nature.

Excavating for the new Bennis residence on South Jackson street has been commenced and the masonry work will be well under way soon. This portion of the contract was let to J. Billings and the building and carpentry work has been let to F. Hurd.

The plans for the new Spencer residence at Evansville have been completed. The construction work is to be done by the day and will be given an Evansville builder. The Rock County Concrete Stone company of Janesville has the contract for the material.

Three big works of building are now under way here. The new Methodist church edifice foundation is being constructed and preparation is being made for the building. At the court house contractor Stewart has commenced work on the new vault addition and though not a great deal is being done now, operations will commence in earnest soon. One of the biggest factory building changes on record here during the last few years is now being made at the plant of the Janesville Machine company.

EAGLES WILL JOURNEY TO ROCKFORD ON SUNDAY

Baseball Game is Arranged and Fine Time is Planned at One of the Parks.

On Sunday the Janesville Aerie of Eagles will make a pilgrimage to Rockford to enjoy the hospitality of their brethren in the Forest City. The festivities of the day will take place at one of the upriver parks and will include a baseball game that promises to be exciting enough to suit the most inveterate cranks in the order.

Level, Straight and Comfortable.

The roads of the New York Central Lines, over which run hourly trains, occupy the Natural highway between the East and West. A water level for one thousand miles between Chicago and New York, along the shore of Lake Erie and Lake Michigan, through the Mohawk Valley and beside the Hudson river. A route, level and straight and offering comforts and conveniences unsurpassed.

Send a 2-cent stamp to George H. Daniels, General Passenger Agent, Grand Central Station, New York for a copy of the Illustrated catalogue of the New York Central's "Four-Track Series."

Singeing the Hair.

The practice of singeing the hair is based on three articles of belief: That when hair is cut the juices drain away; that by singeing the cut ends are blocked up; that by singeing, splitting is prevented. The real utility of hair singeing is non-existent.

DR. WALTER METCALF SUING FOR DAMAGES

Former Janesville Physician Seeks $75,000 for False Arrest in Chicago.

Suit for $75,000 damages on the grounds of false arrest has been commenced by Dr. Walter Metcalf, the former Janesville physician who was taken into custody on the charge of having disposed of bogus mining stock. He promises to show that he had nothing to do with any such deal and that none of the mining stock he owns has been on the market for sale. The police acted on a letter written by Robert Aird of Chicago who invested $300 in the Chicago Adirondack Gold Mining Co. whose place of business appears to have been in the same office where the Beaver Falls Mining Co. subsequently hung out its signs.

Labor Notes

The South Australian Boot Manufacturers' Association has refused the request of the Operative Bootmakers' Union for a conference on trade matters. The employers stated that they did not think it necessary at the present juncture to open up the question of working conditions.

The State Carpenters' and Joiners' Association recently held a convention in Trenton, N. J.

Hon. Carroll D. Wright takes the position that the labor question is very much a matter of approach of the viewpoint taken of it. It not only underlies all other questions, but precedes them. The labor question, he says, is the struggle of humanity, though we hear it discussed in a narrow sense.

Alabama miners are still striking.

No persons are allowed to land in Cape Colony, S. A. unless they have secured work beforehand, or possess $100 on arrival.

The East Brookfield, Mass., woolen mills strike has ended.

The Massachusetts Supreme Court handed down a decision recently holding that the attempt to force all laborers to combine in unions is against the laws of the United States.

A Scriptural Truth.

Two clergymen were driving in a cab to the station, and were in some anxiety lest they should miss their train. One of them pulled out his watch and discovered it had stopped. "How annoying!" he exclaimed, "and I always put such faith in that watch." "In a case like this," answered the other, "good works would evidently have answered the purpose better."

Obvious Enough.

As people get educated they find the dullness of little villages intolerable; they long for something to look at, if it's only a street light or a penny gaff; and they're no longer content to work all the hours there are for 14s a week, to be racked with rheumatism at forty, and to end in the workhouse. The causes are obvious enough.—Liverpool (Eng.) Mercury.

FASHION NOTES

MORE FOULARDS SEEN.

Foulard silks in all the pretty colors and designs of the season might be termed the newest fabrics in the shops, because of the novelty of the material, which never fails to satisfy a fashionable demand. There are few silks which retain their freshness so well as foulard, and none are more adaptable to all of the smart modes of decoration. The writer has in mind especially a youthful looking costume of pale blue and white foulard suggesting a check, barred at frequent intervals by a line of delicate green.

The skirt has a princess effect, no girle, but the top shaped up to meet a bolero end. It was not a plated skirt, but was gored to give fullness at the bottom and was stiffened there. Each of the seams had a simulated slash of some fifteen inches, piped with dark blue and this fold outlined with delicate green soutache braid and a line of small blue buttons.

More and more the hems of new drop skirts are being finished with heavy cords, which seems to portend a later call for still further stiffenings unless the tendency gets a setback. It is never safe to predict so early what the next season's modes are going to be, unless the signs are so unmistakable that they can be read by all.

The bolero packet, accompanying the foulard frock in question was cut square at the top, with a flat yoke piece of handsome white lace inserted under it. The yoke piece was rounded at the top and finished by white silk braid. Where the lace lapped over the yoke it was finished with a fold of blue and then a line of green braid to match the skirt. The short sleeves were met by undercuffs of white linen and the hat was a small blue and green straw trimmed with ribbon nosegays.

Another all white foulard dress, with the exception of a delicate sprinkling of pale rose and blue dots over the surface, has the skirt shirred about the hips and finished with three deep tucks around the bottom. The bodice has a yoke of yellow lace which falls over the bodice proper front and back in point. The points the lace are stitched down closely upon the foundation, making a stationary yoke, but the points are released and under them there is a fold of pale rose chiffon sandwiched between another of white chiffon and the points of lace.

The collar is an intricate little affair in rose, blue and white chiffon and the same colors are repeated in the hat.

Several of the newest French gowns show a straight panel effect unbroken at the waistline, from the guimpe to the floor, the panel being formed of a single piece of the dress material. Just what kind of a reception the style will receive, however, is uncertain. Such a model in cornflower blue crepe de chine, has a panel of Irish crochet some nine inches wide at the top, but much narrower at the waistline and widening again to ten inches at the bottom. It is lined with pale blue chiffon and a fine trimming of the same fabric shows at the panel's edges.

At the top, the skirt is perfectly plain, but by skillful going is made to flare at the foot without further decoration.

The notice has a V-shaped yoke and vest of lace under which chiffon is smothered, the lace being embroidered in delicate design with blue silk.

Accompanying the toilette is a smart little hat of fine blue chip, having a five-inch brim and a crown about an inch high. The brim undulates the merest trifle in the front, rises rather high at the left and stands straight out at the right to rise at both sides and form three deep indentations showing at the outside of the brim. Blue velvet ribbon two and a half inches wide doubled and stiffened with fine crinoline, rests edges down on the brim and an inch from the crown. The ends of this band meet at the right side near the back and a bow of four loops is formed with fine enamel slides fastening through the centre. Where the brim is turned up at the back, a bunch of blue ostrich tips are caught and in addition to these, a white tip curls over the side.

SUPPOSED THIEF CAPTURED AT RIO

Man Supposed to Have Stolen the Maxfield Horse at Milton is Held in Custody.

At Rio, Wis., the man suspected of having stolen the Maxfield horse at Milton some weeks ago has been arrested. His present name is Chas. Fundy, but his aliases are Charles Wilson, John Hill, and Charles Bright. Chief of Police Nolan of Fond du Lac made the arrest and will receive $225 reward for his work in case the prisoner is finally identified with the theft. Milton residents who have inspected the picture taken of Fundy, since his incarceration aver that he is the same individual who haunted the streets of that village several days before the theft occurred.

Boon for Tired Housekeepers.

Here is a prophecy by a Canadian newspaper: "The city home of the future will contain no stoves. Cooking will be done by power, the building will be heated from a central plant, elevators will run from cellar to garret, and breakfast, lunch and dinner will be supplied from a co-operative center. Not only will the house of the future be cleaned by power but the dust will be removed by a pneumatic exhaust system."

A Divine Joy.

Suffering is doubtless as divinely appointed as joy, while it is much more influential as a discipline of character. It chastens and sweetens the nature, teaches patience and resignation and promotes the deepest as well as the most exalted thought.—Samuel Smiles.

DAM QUESTION IMPORTANT ONE

ATTORNEY GENERAL IS HEARING THE ARGUMENTS TODAY.

THE QUESTION OF LEGALITY

Farmers Near Indian Ford Are Anxious To Get What They Call Their Rights.

Attorney General Sturdevant is hearing this afternoon arguments on the question of the removal of the dam at Indian Ford, Rock county, owned by Captain Pliny Norcross of Janesville and used to furnish water power for the generation of electric current for the city of Edgerton.

The Complaint. Farmers around Lake Koshkonong and Fort Atkinson complain that the dam has never been constructed and maintained in accordance with the terms of the statute passed by the legislature of 60 years ago, in which statute the franchise was contained.

The Requirements. The statute required the dam to contain a fishway, a chute for barges and rafts, a lock for the passage of boats and gates for the regulation of the water level above the dam, so that the water of Lake Koshkonong should not be raised.

The petitioners ask the attorney general that suit may be brought in the name of the state for the removal of the dam. They claim that their crops and property have been damaged by reason of the dam and particularly by reason of the fact that the terms of the franchise have never been complied with.

Northwestern Road. When engineer Michael O'Brien hauled in the 11:45 passenger from Chicago this morning employees of the road pointed a small green apple resting on the rear platform of the last coach which had attracted their attention. Just how it got there none would vouch but each one held the theory that the speed of the train in passing close to some orchard on the way must have created a vacuum and the intruding air been of enough force to tear the fruit from the tree and hurl onto the car.

CLINTON WAS BEATEN BUT NOT DISMAYED

Base Ball Team Refused to Accept Score of 8 to 5 as a Final Rockoning with Janesville.

In a close contest at Athletic Park yesterday afternoon the Janesville Pythian baseball team defeated the Clinton K. of B. nine by the score of 8 to 5. Mitchell of Beloit proved a wonder in the pitcher's box and with Cal Broughton of Evansville holding down the catcher's place the locals had a battery whose work filled the fans with joy. Hughes in the box for Clinton and Clapper behind the bat also constituted a formidable battery. William Saxby umpired the game and his decisions appealed to the spectators as being eminently fair. Louis Levy played at short for Janesville and made a spectacular slide in an attempt to land a high one which called forth the plaudits of the admiring onlookers. Otto Oestreich and Judge Jesse Earle alternately held down first base and Walter Johnson in gorgeous red and white socks held down second. Warren Skelly was again a wonder at third and Charles Myhr, J. C. Klein, William Dougherty and Ward Stevens held down the gardens in a manner that surprised their nearest friends.

Clinton was not entirely satisfied with the decisions of the umpire and immediately after the close of the last inning sounded a challenge to play again anywhere in Rock county with the same lineup on either side for the sum of $25.

The players who represented the respective lodges and their positions were as follows: Klein Miller, 2b; Johnson Bennett, 1b; Stevens Skelly, 3b; Mitchell Hughes, p; Mitchell Parnus, ss; Levy Clapper, c; Broughton Gates, 2b; Myhr Barker, 1b; Oestreich.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, July 26.—Fire Wood.—Messrs. Allen & Watson, who have a wood yard on Main street, and who bring their wood down the river by boat, are offering good wood below the market price.

Harvesters.—Quite a number of men have been hanging about the corners of the streets for a few days past, waiting for someone to hire them during harvesting. If they are expecting the high prices of some former years the seals of their trousers will get thin before they strike a job.

Warned Off.—The Madison Journal Journalist at Oxford, in this county, the other day, a copperhead named Hinchbold, formerly Postmaster under Buchanan, who has run away at every call for men and prospect of a draft, returned home, when the neighbors in large force assembled and gave him notice to leave within 24 hours. At the end of the time he was still in town, whereupon preparations were made to tar and feather him, alarmed by which he skedaddled. The people of that town don't propose to have those who shirked the burdens of the war, return there to enjoy the blessings of peace.

The Temperance Meeting Last Evening.—There was a generous attendance at the temperance meeting at the Court Room last evening, mostly, however, of those who favor the temperance movement. Speeches were made by several friends of the cause, but the liquor interest was represented by only one speaker, Mr. S. Hooking. He said he was opposed to temperance, and he was opposed to educating children that did not belong to him, and he was opposed to churches—there were too many of them. The speaker made several other "arguments" in behalf of the traffic, when Wm. B. Hawes, Esq., took the floor, and made a speech which held the audience spellbound, scathing the lightning the speaker who preceded him. His speech was so effective as to call forth tears from his hearers, and then again to convulse them with laughter.

The Poster of the Firemen's Tournament.—We have just printed at our office, under the general supervision of Secretary of the Association, Mr. John C. Spencer, the large poster for the tournament which is to come off in this city on the 23d and 24th of August next. It is one of the largest, if not the largest bill ever printed in the state, and shows most conclusively that the officers of the Association do not mean to be behind in anything.

The Frigate Congress, sunk by the Merrimack in Hampton Roads, was raised on Thursday last. The remains are described as being useless except for the great amount of metal they contain.

LOVE; DIVORCE; WEDDING; SUICIDE

THE FINAL CHAPTER IN ADVERTISING FOR A WIFE.

MECKS COMMITTED SUICIDE

Man Who Married Ella Lent of Janesville, After Sensational Courtship, Ends His Life.

Love, marriage, hate, divorce and suicide are all common stories for the press of the country to handle. It is not often, however, that one paper is instrumental in uniting two loving hearts through means of an advertisement, announcing their marriage, their separation and then the suicide of one of the contracting parties. It is a story of the everyday life of the world that does not often strike directly home at Janesville people. It is a story replete with the finer passions of mankind dulled by the sodden gloss of reality. Divorced from one husband that she might marry another, deserting her second choice in anger, he commits suicide is the tale briefly told.

An Advertisement.
On February 18th, 1904, there appeared in the columns of the Gazette a letter from one Joseph Meeks, who described himself as a shoemaker employed in Chicago asking for a wife. On May 18th Meeks and a Mrs. W. A. Spurling, formerly Miss Ella Lent of Janesville were quietly married in Chicago after Mrs. Lent had secured a divorce from her former husband, W. A. Spurling, Madison drayman. Since then nothing has been heard of Mr. and Mrs. Meeks until the following dispatch appeared in a Milwaukee paper this morning, announcing the suicide of Meeks because his wife had left him.

The Dispatch.
St. Louis, Mo., July 25.—After quarreling with his wife, who, until sixteen months ago was Miss Ella Lent of Janesville, Wis., Joseph Meeks, aged 37, a shoemaker, committed suicide. Visiting the home of his sister, Mrs. John Tyson, he called aside his brother and brother-in-law and said:
"It's all over with me now, boys, my wife has left me and I can not live without her."

Then he drew a bottle from his pocket and stepped into the back yard where he drank carbolic acid, throwing the bottle at his brother, who sought to interfere. An ambulance was called but he died upon his arrival at the hospital.

The Story.
It was some time in February that a local correspondent for a Chicago paper sent out a story from Janesville that there were forty old maids in Janesville who wanted to get married. Immediately following came the following letter to the Gazette office:

"Please give this to one of your youngest Old Maids in your town, well one from 28 to 29 years old if possible. Oblige sender: J. P. M."

The letter sent was as follows and was reprinted, spelling, punctuation and all:

Chicago Ill Feb 7 1904.

Madam.
Janesville Wis.
Dear Miss as I have read the notice in the Sunday Tribune, that forty of you ladies were willing to get married if you found good men; I therefore have taken pains to write to one of your lucky sex. Miss, as I would marry a good honest respectable lady I thought I would write you. I am a young man of 33 and have; The best habits kind and loving; and hold a responsible position Making good wages and capable of taking care of a good true wife.

Miss would not like to hear and correspond with you also exchange pictures with you, if you are in earnest please answer this: trusting and waiting for a return answer Respectfully yours truly Joseph P Meeks, Cook County Shoo Company Congress and Green streets Chicago.

A Postscript.
Following this came the postscript which was as follows: "P. S. Miss I hope and trust to hear from you as I left it to your newspaper correspondent to deliver this letter hoping and trusting it comes in good true and honest hands—a lady that is in no jest, one that would like to meet a true gentleman."

The Results.
According to a sister of Mrs. Lent—Spurling—Meeks her sister saw this letter and answered it. Separated from her husband Mr. Spurling of Madison she went to Chicago and in March secured a divorce and in May married Mr. Meeks. Since then the couple have sunk into oblivion until the sensational suicide of Meeks in St. Louis yesterday.

Lived Here.
It appears that shortly after Meeks' marriage to Mrs. Spurling the couple removed to Janesville, and Meeks found work in the Marzluft Shoe factory leaving Janesville six months ago for St. Louis. Mrs. Lent has several sisters living in the city and her parents reside in Ft. Atkinson. Her relatives had not heard of Meeks' sudden death until told this afternoon. They are: Mrs. H. W. Calor, Miss Lottie Lent, Mrs. Robert L. Walls of Columbia and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lent, the parents who reside in Ft. Atkinson. Mr. Meeks' parents reside in St. Louis.

DUBUQUE EAGLES WANT TO MEET JANESVILLE BIRDS ON THE BASEBALL DIAMOND

Iowa Lodge Nine Planning Series of Games with Brother Teams Near Here.

Yesterday a letter was received here by an officer of the Janesville Acacia of Eagles challenging the lodge baseball team to a game with the Dubuque, Iowa, Eagle aggregation. The western lodge plans to make a trip through the northern part of Illinois and southern Wisconsin meeting the teams in various cities and it can be arranged to play with the local birds on either a Saturday or Sunday afternoon. Their challenge will be accepted here. The Iowans plan to make their trip within the next two months and among the cities in which they will probably play are Dickson, Rockford, Freeport and Beloit. The Janesville Eagles will go to Rockford this coming Sunday and the Beloit Eagle team will play here the following week, August 6.

HATS JERKED THRO' THE CAR WINDOWS

Rockford and Freeport Men Abnarrd Excursion Train Had Harrowing Experience Here Last Night.

Several men from Rockford and Freeport who were aboard the excursion train, returning from the Dells which arrived in this city over the St. Paul road at eleven o'clock last evening had their hats snatched from their heads through the open windows just as the coaches came to a standstill. C. A. Scott, who resides at 323 West State street, Rockford, lost a $15 Panama. Complaint was made to the police officers but the thieves had made good their escape and no adequate description could be furnished.

PICNIC OF TWO K. OF C. COUNCILS

Janesville and Beloit Knights Gather at Yost's Park Tomorrow.

The Knights of Columbus of Janesville and Beloit will hold their joint annual picnic at Yost's park tomorrow afternoon. A baseball game between the two councils will be a feature. D. W. Hayes and Daniel Ryan will compete in a 440 yard high hurdle race. A fat man's race between Aldean Connell and Patrick Meador of Beloit is expected to be a drawing card. Numerous other games will be held under the efficient direction of Col. Dooley. Cars will leave at 10:15 a. m. and 1:15 p. m. Music will be furnished by Knott & Hatch's orchestra of Janesville.

PLAN CONCERTS FOR SUCCEEDING SUNDAYS

Management of Ho-no-negah Park Please the People With Their Concerts.

The fact that fully 2000 people visited Ho-negah park last Sunday again proves that this is really "The Beauty Spot of Rock River."

A concert, both in the afternoon and evening, was given by the Beloit Military band. This proved such a decided success that the management has arranged to give a series of these concerts during the summer. For next Sunday, July 30th, Leaver's orchestra and a colored quartette of jubilee singers have been engaged and will render an excellent program. Don't fail to take advantage of this opportunity to enjoy a quiet, restful Sunday.

Ample accommodations assured. Two cars every thirty minutes via the electric line.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES.

Tail of a Water Fete: Owners of launches on the river are talking of holding a water fete winding up with a sham battle up the river in the near future. One of the features of the event would be an illuminated battle in which one of the vessels would be sunk amid a display of fireworks.

Taken in Ambulance: While visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Lentz, at 259 Lincoln street, Mrs. August Giever was taken ill with appendicitis and yesterday conveyed to her home near Leyden by the Russell ambulance.

Milton Junction Nine: At Athletic Park this afternoon a boys' baseball team representing the village of Milton Junction is playing the Knights of the Holy Cross nine, who won the cup in the Janesville Junior League games earlier in the season.

Sox Versus Edgerton: The Edgerton baseball nine, which were defeated by the local Eagles Sunday will play here again this Sunday crossing bats with the Red Sox aggregation, who have also been defeated by the Eagles.

Rain is Needed: Reports from throughout the county are that rain is badly needed owing to the extreme dry condition of the soil. Corn and grain are reported to be doing very well although a good rain would help them materially.

Good Fishing: Reports from fishermen are that several good hauls of pickerel and other game fish have been made above the upper dam.

Being Repaired: The launch Lorna, which was stove in above the water line at Lake Koshkonong last week and was hauled to the city on a wagon is being repaired and will be on the river by Saturday.

Were Not Haying: The council committee appointed to investigate the "haying" charge preferred against the stone crusher crew by Aid. Dulm, visited the scene yesterday and are preparing a report vindicating the management and asserting that there was no truth to the charge.

ELECT DIRECTORS AT THE MEETING

JANESVILLE ADVANCEMENT ASSOCIATION READY FOR WORK.

ORGANIZATION IS PERFECTED

Means Booming of the City and Increasing of Population and Business.

Everything is now completed in the plans to boom Janesville. The articles of the Janesville Advancement Association have been filed in the Secretary of State's office at Madison and at the office of the register of deeds at the court house. The charter has been issued the association. The by-laws have been adopted, the board of directors elected, the advisory board chosen and the association is ready to do business.

Last Steps.

The last steps in perfecting the organization were taken last night at the offices of the New Gas and Light Company. Fred Clemons, chairman of the meeting called it to order at half past seven and the regular business pursuant to perfect the organization was taken up in due order. A. M. Fisher, who with A. E. Bingham and W. G. Wheeler, drew up the articles of incorporation, the constitution and the by-laws, reported that the charter had been received from Madison. The constitution having been adopted at a previous meeting the by-laws were then taken up by sections and adopted. The report of the committee on nominations of the board of directors and advisory board was then made by Robert M. Bostwick, Jr., acting as chairman of that committee which consisted of Frank Jackson, Fred S. Sheldon, Geo. P. Simpson and David Atwood.

The Officers.

The committee reported on the following selection of officers for advisory board: Malcolm G. Jeffris, William S. Jeffris, Claremont S. Jackson, Michael Hayes, Levi B. Carle, Thomas O. Howe, Albert E. Bingham, Joseph M. Bostwick and William G. Wheeler.

For board of directors: George S. Parker, Thomas S. Nolan, Ira F. Wortendyke, Fred L. Clemons, W. H. Greenman, Arthur M. Fisher, H. H. Bliss and Peter J. Monat.

To Control Affairs.

This board of directors will meet on Thursday afternoon at four o'clock in Arthur M. Fisher's office in the Jackson block to elect the president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of the association and transact such other business as may become necessary. It is probable that George S. Parker will be chosen president and J. F. Wortendyke secretary and that the offices of secretary and treasurer will be combined for the present. This board will have charge of the affairs of promoting the city's welfare and will hold frequent meetings.

Open For Members.
Now that the organization is completed the association will soon open its books for memberships. These memberships are to cost five dollars each with a yearly assessment of five dollars on each membership paid in semi-annual installments. Several prominent business men have agreed to take twenty of thirty shares each. Each share carries with it one vote at the annual election of board of directors which takes place in January of each year. Four general meetings of the association will be held each year and special meetings can be called by the president and board of directors at any time or at the request of five members.

Much Business.
There are several projects awaiting the attention of the new board of directors at their first meeting and it is possible that before the snow flies several good factories will be ready to settle here.

Working Hard For THE CHAUTAUQUA
Putting the Grounds in Shape for the Opening on Friday Next.

Men are busy today making the grounds of the Janesville Chautauqua at Miles Grove ready for the opening on Friday next. The big speaker's tent and some of the smaller individual tents are already up and by tomorrow noon all will be ready. Twenty-five individual tents for campers have been erected and four of these have already been engaged. It is expected that the rest will be rented before the Chautauqua opens. At Sterling, Ill., on Sunday last ten thousand persons attended the Chautauqua and heard Father Vaughan deliver his famous sermon. The officers of the local Chautauqua are anxious to beat this number and will request that Friday be made a half holiday so that everyone can take advantage of the opportunity of hearing Mrs. John A. Logan deliver her famous talk. The grounds are to be lighted by electricity and aside from the street cars there is a dock at which steamers can land. A good well has been sunk and there will be dining tents and refreshment stands on the grounds. Present indications are that the initial session will be exceptionally good and well attended.

MORTUARY NEWS.

Rock Co. Telephone Co. Starts Action
To Condemn Private Alley Running Between Milwaukee and Court Streets Back of Hayes Block.

Under the state law allowing telephone, telegraph and power transmission companies to condemn right-of-ways in private alleys and roads for their wires, the Rock County Telephone Co. has instituted proceedings to secure the privilege of maintaining their underground cables in the alley running from East Milwaukee street and Court street and back of the Hayes block and buildings fronting on South Main street. The petition reciting the concern's desire to acquire the right, interest and easement to have and operate its cables in conduits beneath the surface of the ground within a strip of land three feet wide and subject to the right of the owners to maintain such sewers across said strip of land as are now laid therein, was filed in the office of the clerk of the court on July 25. It asks that commissioners of appraisal be appointed according to law to ascertain and appraise the just compensation on those interested in the property and the time and place of the first meeting of the commissioners be fixed. On motion of Francis Grant, attorney for the petitioner, it is ordered that the petition be heard before the judge of the circuit court, on the 21st of August at 10 a. m., and that the order be served on all persons interested by the publication of a copy in the Janesville Daily Gazette.

The wires were laid in this alley at the request of the property-holders. It is claimed, seven years ago, the alley being to thereby obviate the necessity of burdening Main street with more poles. Within recent time several of these parties arrived at the conclusion that the Telephone Co. should pay for the privilege of running its wires through their property. No agreement as to the compensation could be reached. Those who have thus contended are R. M. Bostwick, W. B. and Charles B. Conrad, Samuel Henderson and the owner of the Charles Jenkins estate.

The contention was in the public eye recently when an effort was made to have the alley declared a public thoroughfare by the common council. The three commissioners appointed by Judge Dunwiddie will doubtless settle the matter to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard M. Palmer Were Guests of Honor at Brilliant Reception Last Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard M. Palmer who returned this week from their wedding tour of the west were the guests of honor last evening at a reception given at the palatial residence of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Palmer. The several hundred visitors were welcomed from seven o'clock in the drawing room by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Palmer, Miss Florence Palmer and the bride and groom. This apartment was elaborately decorated with yellow garden flowers while the hall was in red and the dining room in white.

The grounds as well as the interior of the home were brilliantly lighted. Soft strains of music came from Knott & Hatch's orchestra concealed behind the stairway. Throughout the evening ice cream and cake and bonbons were served in the dining room and frappe from a large punch-bowl in the hall. The table centerpiece in the refreshment room was a huge cluster of white sweet peas and maiden's hair fern. White asters and other blossoms of the same hue were also effectively used.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer who received the congratulations of their host of friends last evening will be at home in their residence at No. 9 East street after August 1.

TOLD COURT HOW THEY DOPED HIM
Jury in County Court Today Found James McKee Mentally Deranged.

James McKee, age twenty-nine and looking forty, a native of Evansville who was sent to the county jail to serve thirty days on the charge of attacking his father with a razor, told a jury in Judge Sale's court, room this morning how fellow prisoners threw dope on him with thumb and forefinger in the jail and how he could feel its baleful influence the moment it "struck." The man was on trial for his sanity and after he had been cross questioned and examined Mrs. Palmer and Farnsworth gave it as their opinion that he was demented. The jury's findings were in accord with this opinion and the unfortunate man was committed to the asylum at Mendota whither he was taken this noon. McKee told the court that he had served in the Philippines but had deserted when his troop was put in charge of southerners as officers.

The contention was in the public eye recently when an effort was made to have the alley declared a public thoroughfare by the common council. The three commissioners appointed by Judge Dunwiddie will doubtless settle the matter to the satisfaction of all concerned.

CONGRATULATED BY A HOST OF FRIENDS
Mr. and Mrs. Bernard M. Palmer Were Guests of Honor at Brilliant Reception Last Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard M. Palmer who returned this week from their wedding tour of the west were the guests of honor last evening at a reception given at the palatial residence of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Palmer. The several hundred visitors were welcomed from seven o'clock in the drawing room by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Palmer, Miss Florence Palmer and the bride and groom. This apartment was elaborately decorated with yellow garden flowers while the hall was in red and the dining room in white.

The grounds as well as the interior of the home were brilliantly lighted. Soft strains of music came from Knott & Hatch's orchestra concealed behind the stairway. Throughout the evening ice cream and cake and bonbons were served in the dining room and frappe from a large punch-bowl in the hall. The table centerpiece in the refreshment room was a huge cluster of white sweet peas and maiden's hair fern. White asters and other blossoms of the same hue were also effectively used.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer who received the congratulations of their host of friends last evening will be at home in their residence at No. 9 East street after August 1.

TOLD COURT HOW THEY DOPED HIM
Jury in County Court Today Found James McKee Mentally Deranged.

James McKee, age twenty-nine and looking forty, a native of Evansville who was sent to the county jail to serve thirty days on the charge of attacking his father with a razor, told a jury in Judge Sale's court, room this morning how fellow prisoners threw dope on him with thumb and forefinger in the jail and how he could feel its baleful influence the moment it "struck." The man was on trial for his sanity and after he had been cross questioned and examined Mrs. Palmer and Farnsworth gave it as their opinion that he was demented. The jury's findings were in accord with this opinion and the unfortunate man was committed to the asylum at Mendota whither he was taken this noon. McKee told the court that he had served in the Philippines but had deserted when his troop was put in charge of southerners as officers.

The twin silencing blades darted here and there like an adder's tongue and as painlessly. Yelp after yelp showed its potency, and the dogs, quick to learn that they were overmatched, quailed their fury and contented themselves with noisy outcry at a safe distance from the semicircle of danger, jumping sideways and backward, barking valiantly, but keeping well clear of the ringer. At a glance from the earl the huntsman whipped them back into their former places.

"Yes, lash them, you whelp, but it's over your own shoulders the cord should go had I the ordering, then meanness of the pack."

"Madam," said the Earl of Strafford sternly, "I would have you know that none gives orders here but me."

"In that you are mistaken, my lord. You have just heard me give them, and, furthermore, have seen them obeyed. But, aside from the ordering of either you or me, I understand this to be the king's park."

Again De Courcy laughed.

"She hit you there, my lord," he had the temerity to say.

Strafford paid no attention to his gibe, but gazed darkly at the fearless intruder.

"What do you want?" he asked.

"I have told you, my lord. I wish a word in your private ear."

"Speak out what you have to say."

"Tis to be heard by none but the Earl of Strafford—no, not even by the king himself—for, you should know, were it other fashion, I would have spoken when last I encountered you."

"I have no secrets from the king."

"Nor need this be one. 'Tis yours to gossip? Who are you?"

"That is what I wish to tell your lordship when I get the opportunity. As for yesterday, I feigned nothing. I but retold what an old gypsy once said to me regarding the king and Lord Strafford. I wished to engage your attention, but like the underlings of this palace, you turned me away."

"Your persistence shall be rewarded, but with this proviso: If the news you make so much of is not worth the telling, then shall you expiate your impudence in prison. If you fear to accept the risk, you had better begone while there is yet time and let us see no more of you."

"I accept the hazard freely, my lord."

The Earl of Strafford said no more, but turned to his followers, who at once withdrew to the background, except De Courcy, who, not having forgiven the insult placed upon him and unconscious that his reluctance to quit the spot was giving point to the girl's invective, cried angrily:

"Beware, Lord Strafford. There may be more in this than appears on the surface. She has shown herself expert with a stolen blade. That blade is still in her hand."

The earl smiled coldly. He was unused to disobedience even where it concerned his own safety.

"Tis but fair," he said, "that I should take some risk to equal hers. I'll chance the stroke. Your prayer was that I should meet this damsel alone in the forest. Do not beg of you, prevent fulfillment of your devout petition by further tarrying."

But before this was spoken the girl

Bill Reid, Harvard Coach,
Wants Yale Gore—Michigan May Get Boat Course.

Bill Reid, the "czar" of all the Harvard men, has already started in on his determined campaign to down the Yale football team next fall. It is rather an early beginning, but Reid has made up his mind to avenge the defeats of the past three years and will leave nothing undone to accomplish his purpose.

Reid is now head coach of the Cambridge football squad and has already put the available men through much active practice. He believes that this early training will be a big help in the fall.

The Harvard football schedule has not been announced yet. Reid ordered the football management to go easy on their games until he had given a definite answer concerning the coaching.

Two big games have been definitely arranged, however, Yale playing in Cambridge Nov. 25 and Harvard in Philadelphia against Pennsylvania Nov. 11. Columbia, Brown, Dartmouth, Carlisle Indians and Williams have also obtained places on Harvard's schedule, but concerning the other teams there is doubt.

Harvard's season will be one week longer than during the past four years and that means that an extra game will be added to the list. At first there was considerable talk about dropping Dartmouth and substituting Brown, but later reports indicate that both colleges have been given a chance.

A boating course on the Huron river near Ann Arbor has been talked of for years at the University of Michigan, but now at last there seems a possibility that the dream will be realized.

A light and power company which has a plant at Geddes is planning on building a much larger dam at that point and putting up a new building and there is a probability that this work will make it possible to have the boating course. The value of such a boating course at the university cannot be estimated. Rowing and canoeing would be stimulated to a high degree among the general student body, and a brand new branch of athletics would spring into being. As an advertisement for the university the course would be of great value, and many students would be attracted by that one feature alone.

Johns Hopkins and Syracuse also are preparing new fields. Princeton is considering making a stadium because there is too great expense and trouble in changing the stands and building additions for the big football games.

"THE BUSTLE OF THE FARM"

An Actor's Uncle That Found New York Too Slow.

Willis P. Sweatnam, the Sassafras Livingston of the "County Chairman" cast, before going to his country place for the summer was host to an elderly relative from a remote locality. The plan was to give "uncle" a well considered good time and show him things about New York that might escape the casual visitor. "Uncle," however, took things in his own hands, arose at 6 o'clock in the morning, climbed to the top of every high building in the city and wore himself out in three days. The fourth day found him with his valise packed and he announced that he was going home.

"But," said Sweatnam, "you haven't half seen things. You've been here only three days. Now, if you'll let me show you around—"

"I've seen it all, Willis, and I think it's kind of slow. To tell you the truth, I long for the bustle of the farm."

BRAVERY OF REGULARS

Exploits In Philippines Honored by War Department.

ONE FOUGHT OFF TEN FILIPINOS.

Billy Ballou's Deadly Fire on a Band of Insurgents—How Sergeant Bryan Shielded an Officer From Moros. Private Moreland Nursed a Comrade Stricken With Deadly Asiatic Fever.

Out with the regulars who are fighting in the rice fields and swamps in the Philippines there are not much gold lace and dazzling brilliancy of uniform, but there are plenty of chances for glory, says the New York Times. That is shown in the list recently published at Washington of the certificate of merit granted by the war department in the last six months.

In the long list of those on the nation's roll of honor the name of Billy Ballou, private of the Fifteenth cavalry, must have place. On Feb. 2, 1904, Ballou, who was a member of Troop D, with his captain and two other privates, was surprised by a band of insurgents, who to all appearances just "popped up" out of the ground near the village of Suctan on the island of Mindanao. Before the quartet of regulars recovered from their surprise the captain and one of the privates had been killed and the second private severely wounded, and Ballou was left alone to make the best fight he could. The records show that he made a good one.

Ballou stood his ground, his faithful "Krag" all the time peppering an answer to the rifles in the hands of the attacking insurgents. The fight was ten against one, but so deadly was Ballou's fire that the number of his opponents decreased by one every time his rifle snapped, and finally those of the little brown men who were left alive retreated. When reinforcements arrived they found Ballou, still on guard, nursing his wounded comrade and ready, should the occasion arise, to fight another battle single handed.

Travis T. Bryan, a sergeant in Company A of the Twenty-second infantry, is another soldier whose name will be remembered by the troops in Mindanao. Sergeant Bryan won the certificate of merit on Jan. 22 of last year. With his company he was on guard garrisoning a captured Moro fort on the banks of the Ilan river. On this occasion the Moros made a desperate attempt to recapture the fort, and in the action two of his company officers were wounded and fell in the doorway of the fort. They lay in the direct line of the Moro fire.

Bryan put himself in front of the worst wounded of the officers, shielding him from fire and in the meantime making it possible for the other officer to crawl to a place of safety. Bryan stood his ground until a rescuing party arrived, and when the smoke cleared away the number of dead Moros in front of the blockhouse showed what a marksman the sergeant was.

In the Twenty-eighth infantry one of the sergeants of Company I in February of last year was Bishop L. Morrow. Morrow won his certificate by going to the assistance of a wounded comrade who had been attacked by three Moros near Pantar, on the Ilogan-Lake Lanoa road. Had he been a minute later the comrade would have been killed, but once Bishop got there he quickly fired three well directed shots. He had no reason to tire a fourth.

Otto Herter was a private in the hospital corps, when in an engagement in which the Americans were hard pressed by Ladrones, near Bago-Bintay, in Luzon, he stopped attending wounded, dashed to the firing line, grabbed the rifle of a wounded soldier and began to shoot. The general order awarding him his certificate of merit says that "he was cool and brave, setting an excellent example to the other men in the command."

John P. McSweeney was a member of the "Fighting Ninth" when he won his award. It was in China, and it happened near Tientsin. An officer of his command had been desperately wounded and was lying in an exposed place directly in the line of fire of the Chinese sharpshooters. McSweeney went to the officer's assistance, bandaged his wounds and was dragging him to safety when a shot put him out of action.

In the Forty-third United States volunteers there was a private named Schottler—Charles Schottler. Schottler was fighting in Samar, P. I. In action he saw a Moro lift a bolo to kill an officer. Running forward, he reached the side of the insurgent in time to divert the blow. He received it himself. He afterward got well, and the certificate of merit was his reward.

It was at Cabanatuan, in Calimbas, P. I., that George Moreland, a private of the Fifth infantry, voluntarily took upon himself the duty of nursing a comrade stricken with the contagious Asiatic fever. The comrade died and was buried by Moreland, none of the other troops in the meantime having been exposed to the contagion. Moreland caught the fever, but he lives to tell the story.

In February, 1904, one officer and two privates on duty near Bacoor, P. I., were attacked by fifteen insurgents and were in desperate straits when Sergeant Fred Harrison of the Sixth cavalry came up and began to show his marksmanship. Ten minutes later the only insurgents to be seen were those who had stood in the line of Harrison's fire.

These are only a few of the men who have been awarded the certificate of merit since Jan. 1.

proclaim to the world at your pleasure. But first it is for your ear alone. Send that painted popinjay to the rear with the dogs. The others are gentlemen and will retire of their own accord when they learn a lady wishes to speak privately with you."

It was now the turn of the English nobles to laugh, which they did merrily enough, but De Courcy seemed less pleased with the rude suggestion. He frowned at his sword hilt and muttered angrily that if any present wished to make the girl's reference his own a meeting could be speedily arranged to discuss the question. Strafford, however, had no mind for any display. His glance quelled the rising defiance; then he said harshly to the young woman:

"What do you here in the king's park, lacking permission, as I suspect?"

"Indeed," cried the girl, with a toss of the head, "they say, where I come from, that everything seemingly possessed by the king belongs actually to the people, and being one of the people I come to my own domain, asking permission of none."

"You are young to speak treason."

"Tis no treason of mine. I but repeat what others say."

"Still, how came you here?"

"Easily, over the wall. I was refused access to you by any other means, so I took the method that suggested itself."

"Sir," her voice lowered so that none might by any chance overhear—"Sir, I am Frances Wentworth, your lordship's eldest daughter."

CORN CONDITION IS SATISFACTORY

Favorable Weather Tends to Cause Rapid Growth of Plants.

SPRING WHEAT FILLING WELL

Early Sown is Maturing in South Dakota and Wisconsin, While the Crop is Nearly Ready to Cut in Iowa—Little Damage From Rust.

Washington, July 25.—A general summary of the weekly crop report of the weather bureau follows:

Although it was excessively hot and dry in part of the middle Atlantic states and Kentucky and Tennessee during the early part of the week ended July 24, and these conditions also prevailed in the northern plateau region and on the North Pacific coast, as a rule temperatures were favorable. Showers delayed work and caused some damage to crops in Virginia, West Virginia, portions of the lower Ohio, central and lower Mississippi valleys, Oklahoma and Texas, while rain is needed in New England, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Kansas, and generally throughout the plateau district.

Corn in Fine Condition.

Favorable weather has caused rapid growth of corn, and with few exceptions the crop is in excellent condition. Corn is beginning to need rain in Kansas and Alabama, the late needs cultivation in Arkansas and Kentucky, and some was damaged by high winds in Louisiana.

Winter wheat harvesting is nearly completed in the principal wheat states, and thrashing, which is well advanced, shows grain of good yield and quality in Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Nebraska, with fair yield and good quality in Kansas. Rains have delayed thrashing in Virginia and Maryland and caused further damage to grain in shock or stack in Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas. On the North Pacific coast winter wheat is ripening rapidly in Washington, where harvesting is in full progress, and harvesting is general in Oregon, with good yields indicated.

Little Damage From Rust.

Spring wheat has continued to advance favorably in the spring wheat regions. The early sown is headed and filling well and the late-sown is heading in North Dakota; the early is maturing in South Dakota and Wisconsin, and the crop is nearly ready to cut in Iowa. Although black rust is reported from scattered localities in Minnesota and the Dakotas, no material damage is shown, and with favorable weather conditions a injury is not expected. Complaints of smut are received from South Dakota, of red rust in Colorado and most fields of North Dakota, and of some lodging in Wisconsin, while in Washington desiccating winds have been injurious to the crop in the filling stage and have caused shriveling.

In the principal oats-producing states harvesting of this crop is well advanced, while in the more northerly districts oats are heading, the early sown are maturing rapidly and harvesting will be general during the coming week. The crop generally is in promising condition, although badly lodged in Ohio, and some complaints of lodging are received from Washington.

Although improvement is indicated in parts of nearly all the cotton states, it is neither general nor marked. While the staple has grown rapidly and is generally fruiting well in sections of Georgia, Alabama, Texas and Missouri, complaints of unsatisfactory fruiting are received from the Carolinas, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Oklahoma, and of rust or shedding from all sections. Insects are causing considerable damage to cotton in localities in Texas, but generally no great damage is reported. The crop is opening in the southern part of the belt and picking is under way in southern Texas.

Tobacco has made rapid growth and is generally in satisfactory condition. The crop is weedy and some has been drowned out in Kentucky and damaged locally by rains in Virginia and is poor on light soil in Maryland. Topping is in progress in New England and Ohio, and curing is becoming general, with good results, in North Carolina.

With the exception of Oklahoma, Kansas and Wisconsin, adverse reports respecting apples are received from all sections.

Haying has been delayed by rains in Virginia and sections of the Ohio valley and considerable damage to hay is reported from Oklahoma, Missouri and Southern Illinois. Elsewhere a good crop is being secured under favorable conditions.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES.

Henry, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lewis of Prophetstown, Ill., choked to death while eating breakfast.

Eliza Carter of Upper Sandusky, O., was given a second nomination for state senator by the democrats of the thirty-first senatorial district.

Consul General Sammons of Newchwang, Manchuria, announces the arrival at that place of cargoes of oil direct from Philadelphia. He reports also that the Chinese prefer the American to the Russian oil.

The sentence of Emil Totterman, who was to be executed for murder on Aug. 1, was commuted by Governor Higgins to life imprisonment. Totterman was sentenced for stabbing to death Sarah Martin in a New York lodging house. He had been a sailor on the Oregon and had won several medals for bravery.

Francesco Cefoli, an Italian, was hanged at Brockville, Pa., yesterday, for the killing of Pasquale Pellegrino, at Sykesville, on Sept. 24, 1904. On the way to the scaffold and on the scaffold Cefoli created quite a scene. He raved, declaring himself innocent, and it was only by force that he was placed on the trap.

Attorney General William H. Moody who arrived at Rockland, Me., Monday night from Bar Harbor on the United States dispatch boat Dolphin, sailed for Squirrel island and Bath.

Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, who was taken ill with an attack of acute indigestion, has almost entirely recovered. He spent some time at the department yesterday afternoon.

Brigadier General Thomas H. Barry has been selected for president of the war college at Washington. General Barry is now in Manchuria with the Russian army, but no order will be issued assigning him to his new duty until he returns to the United States.

The Cunard line steamer Caronia, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday, takes among her passengers Baron von Hengelmiller, Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States, and Sir Edmund John Monson, the former ambassador to France, and Lady Monson.

OVERBOLD DESERTER IS CAUGHT IN GERMANY

Resident of Cleveland (Ohio) Is Captured on Third Visit to His Native Town of Haackling.

Cleveland, O., July 26.—After living for thirty-one years in the United States, August Pfaff, a well-known resident of this city, has been arrested by the German authorities while on a visit to his native town, Haackling, Germany. This information comes in a letter to a son.

When Pfaff was 16 years old he came to this country, going to Cincinnati. Three years later he returned to Germany and was impressed into the army. After three months' service he escaped and returned to Cincinnati, coming afterward to Cleveland, where he has resided since. He has made two previous trips to his native town without detection. The letter stated that he has been in jail for two weeks and would probably remain imprisoned for some time, although he hoped eventually to be released on payment of a fine.

Consul Explains.

Cincinnati, O., July 26.—Dr. Carl Polier, German consul in this city, states that as there is no evidence that Pfaff was ever naturalized as a citizen of the United States, he will have to serve whatever sentence the German government may impose on him for his failure to do military duty. "The United States have nothing to do with any punishment Germany may inflict upon one of her citizens," said Dr. Polier.
